A central activity of Globus Toolkit developers is to refine current capabilities and develop new functionality based on input from the community. The following diagram illustrates a key process through which community members can participate in Globus development. For more information on Globus development, please visit http://dev.globus.org and http://www.globus.org/roadmap/.